Tea, cake and sympathy with author Sasha Bates

Friday 22 April
4.00–5.30pm

Tim's café

Sasha Bates is a psychotherapist, writer, yoga teacher and former documentary film-maker. She has written, directed and produced series as diverse as Omnibus and How to Look Good Naked, alongside an ongoing freelance career. She drew on her knowledge of therapeutic theory when she suffered an unexpected and traumatic loss and was thrust into a new and unwelcome world.

Development director Emma Garrett talks to her friend Sasha about the complex and overwhelming emotions that result from loss of any kind.

It's All About You

An acting masterclass with Patti Clare
and Kate Isitt

Saturday 23 April
1.00–3.00pm

Le Brocq Studio

Based on the system of Antony Meindl Actor's Workshop, using short scenes, pupils will focus on cold reading and learning to trust their instincts. They will discover how turning up with whatever life-state they find themselves in on the day can be their most powerful tool.

Patti Clare has appeared in most of the regional theatres of England and Scotland. TV credits include: Casualty, Torchwood, Young Dracula and Coronation Street, for which she has won a British National Soap Award three times for Best Comedy Performance.

Kate Isitt is currently filming The Enemy Within. TV credits include Coupling, Is It Legal?, Last Tango in Halifax, Jonathan Creek and Strictly Confidential. She will be working on the fourth series of the Radio 4 comedy Alone later this year.

Incurable Optimist,
Paul Mayhew-Archer

Saturday 23 April
7.00–9.00pm

Birley Centre

Incurable Optimist is an inspiring one-man show about the therapeutic power of comedy and laughter from a man who is not contagious but is well worth catching, Paul Mayhew-Archer. Paul's writing credits include The Vicar of Dibley, Mrs Brown's Boys and the screen version of Roald Dahl's Esio Trot starring Judi Dench and Dustin Hoffman. He produced the much-loved Radio 4 shows I'm Sorry I haven't A Clue and Old Harry's Game, and, as a script-editor, he has worked on everything from Spitting Image to Miranda.

In 2011 he was diagnosed with Parkinson's. It's an incurable illness that gets progressively worse and has over 50 symptoms. It is also, as Paul quickly found out, funny. Since then he's had some of the best times of his life.

New Sussex Opera Chorus presents
Handel's Acis and Galatea

Saturday 28 May

7.30pm

Sunday 29 May

3.00pm

Birley Centre

New Sussex Opera have re-imagined Handel's delightful opera Acis and Galatea, setting it in a 1960s hippie commune. In a story of two distinct halves, the colourful, joyful tale of lost and reunited love turns more sinister in the second half as Acis and Galatea have their blissful dreams plagued by the monster Polyphemus.

Conducted by Nicholas Houghton and directed by David Foster, the acclaimed NSO Chorus are joined by talented young soloists and accompanied on period instruments by the NSO Baroque Players.

After this, our tour moves on to Lewes (the All Saints Centre) and Hove (The Old Market theatre).

Tickets £23 (adults) £11.50 (for pupils and students 16 plus). Free to pupils 15 and below

Journey's End

CHARLOTTE STANWORTH AND SAFFRON GRANT-DOWN

Tuesday 28 June

7.00pm

College Theatre

(Big School)

Over three days of fighting in March of 1918, British soldiers stuck in the WWI trenches of northern France and their commanding officers quartered below await a German attack. Raleigh an inexperienced 19-year-old officer, had actually requested to join C Company, led by his much-beloved former school housemaster and prospective brother-in-law Captain Stanhope. The latter tries to hide his rattling insecurities in the counsel of his second in command, Osborne. It's just a matter of when the bombs are going to start falling.

A Gold Arts Award production featuring Chris O'Hanlon, Joe Muschialli, Ben Beatton, Tom Pedley and Fin Tomlinson.

The Dell Play: Audience by Michael Frayn

Wednesday 29, Thursday 30 June

Friday 1 July

8.15pm

The Dell

For the first time ever, two Lower Sixth drama pupils are in charge of directing and producing the Dell play. With the assistance of professional director-mentors Frankie Dussek and Murray Smith, pupils have been fully involved in the casting, rehearsing and designing of this year's Dell production, a comedy in one act called Audience. In a hilarious and disorienting twist, the audience are the characters on stage and the real audience are the play.
